

We at March's believe that dogs are more than pets. To us they are family and should be taken care of as family. Just as humans hold it important to know what they are feeding their bodies, it is important for pet owners to know what they are feeding their animals. A dog's diet is what fuels them for a long and healthy life – what every dog owner wishes for. At March's, we do extensive research and field sampling to find the cleanest ingredients to put into our recipe. It is our mission to provide every dog owner with the highest quality dog food that they can know and trust will nourish their furry family members throughout every stage of their lives.

Health & Safety

The world of animal health science is ever-changing. New discoveries are found daily regarding what is good for canine health and what may be harmful to them. We at March's acknowledge this and take every precaution to protect the dogs that consume our products. We have our own in-house team of experts who specialize in canine health and conduct research to stay up to date on all necessary information to make our dog food products as safe and nutritional as possible.

Sourcing

It is important to know what ingredients dogs need in their diet, and it helps even more knowing where to find the best quality ingredients. At March's, we put a lot of time and effort into choosing what suppliers we use for our ingredients. We take on-site field visits to all supplier locations to fully observe how ingredients are farmed, making sure all laws and regulations are followed. We also only use suppliers who responsibly take care of the environment throughout all their operations. Before choosing a supplier, we thoroughly inspect the integrity of the ingredients that they farm through food safety and toxicology tests.

Sustainability

Just as our March's team is committed to the safety and wellbeing of your pups, we also consider it our responsibility to keep nature a clean environment for them to explore. Not only do we strictly partner with suppliers who farm sustainably, all March's factory locations operate under the belief that protecting our planet is a top priority. All our production facilities practice zero waste guidelines – that includes water conservancy, renewable energy sources and recyclable and reusable packaging. From day one, March's has kept our environment in mind, and we will keep striving for a cleaner future.
